RapidCase

RapidCase features many of the same benefits of the Rapid Deploy family, making it perfect when supporting portable operations especially in emergency situations. Contained in a lightweight, portable carrying case, this "network-in-a-box" turnkey solution is pre-wired and pre-configured so operations are supported with one push of a button. Primarily designed to support Wi-Fi connectivity over a significant area for remote clients, the data can be backhauled over LTE, FirstNet, CBRS, and other supported technologies.
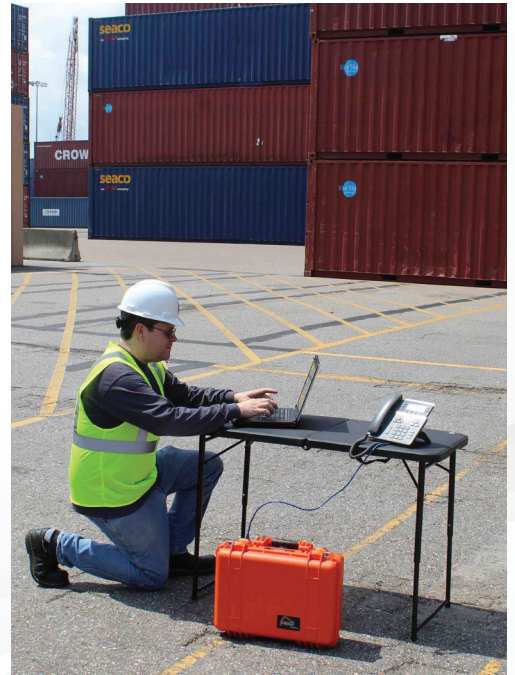

PROBLEM

Wired and wireless networks aren't always available where and when you need them, especially when the need is critical.
